DAY 1 TUESDAY 2ND MARCH 2027

We enjoy a relaxing comfort break en route to our first bodega, where Isabel and her family welcome us to their artisan winery. Celebrated for crafting exceptional organic, vegan, natural wines in the high-altitude landscape near Guadix, they will host us for a tasting of five distinct wines, paired with a home-cooked Andalusian arroz for lunch. Afterward, we visit a local museum to discover the rich history and cave-dwelling traditions of this iconic troglodyte region while sampling three regional wines accompanied by local cheeses and cured meats. A short drive then brings us to our hotel for check-in before 18:00, leaving plenty of time to unwind before a delicious evening meal served with local wine and water.

DAY 2 WEDNESDAY 3RD MARCH 2027

A leisurely start after our Spanish breakfast sees us journey into the scenic Sierra de Darro. Here, we meet Emilio at his high-altitude organic vineyard for a tasting of four of his fine wines. With over 50 years of experience in the wine industry, Emilio has been cultivating and producing his own wines since 2000, working tirelessly as a family to craft exceptional quality—a dedication recognized by six Silver and one Gold Bacchus awards. We then head to the historic Cathedral city of Guadix for a delicious tapas lunch before climbing to nearly 1,200 meters to visit one of the highest vineyards in mainland Europe. Here, we taste three of their boutique wines while discovering how their meticulous organic viticulture, unique volcanic-clay soils, and high-altitude microclimate make every numbered bottle truly special. To top off a wonderful day, we return to the hotel for another delightful evening meal served with wine.

DAY 3 THURSDAY 4TH MARCH 2027

After one final breakfast at our lovely hotel, we bid farewell and set off for our last day of delving into wine. We switch to a different DO—Almería—where we visit a renowned bodega. The winery is situated near dramatic coastal mountains, where unique mineral-rich soils and sea breezes shape its distinct wines. The bodega is dedicated to crafting red and white wines that reflect the character, history, and terroir of this region, where viticulture has flourished for 4,000 years. Here, we try four of their wines before continuing to Bolnuevo for a peek at the amazing sand sculptures and a final delicious meal. We aim to arrive back at approximately 17:15.
